Contract for Barrier Line Goes to Hood

The Board of Supervisors Tuesday awarded a contract for construction of the first unit of a sea water barrier program along the County's western coastal area.

Supervisor Burton W. Chace said successful bidder was Hood Corporation of Whittier, which submitted a low bid of $1,446,826.84 to County Flood Control District last week.

The proposal was $162,866 less than engineering estimates.

THE PROJECT—which includes nearly six miles of water pipeline, a pressure station and chlorination plant—is the initial phase of an overall $4.6 million coastal barrier against sea water intrusion of fresh water wells.

"Sea water contamination of fresh water sources is a growing problem in California," Supervisor Chace declared. "This West Coast Basin Barrier Project is urgently needed to avoid further destruction of underground water supplies."

The pipeline will start in El Segundo Boulevard some 3,000 feet westerly of Aviation Boulevard and run southerly across private property to Marine Avenue in Manhattan Beach, Chace said.

FROM THIS POINT it continues 1.5 miles in Redondo Avenue to Artesia Boulevard at Redondo Beach and thence on to its termination at Torrance Boulevard.

The pressure-reducing station will be at the commencement of the line and the chlorination plant will be constructed at Anita Street near Prospect Street.

Project plans were prepared by M. A. Nishkian & Co. of Long Beach. Flood Control District personnel, under chief engineer M. E. Salsbury, will oversee construction and operate and maintain the facility.

Supervisor Chace said the program is being financed from District funds and special zone tax revenues.

Own-Your-Own-Apartments Now Available for Rental

People who have been renting a house or apartment, now can rent a home.

Ocean House, 24065 Ocean Ave., was built as Pacific Own-Your-Own Apartments, but the luxurious complex has been converted to a system of conventional rental apartments.

Built to the high standards of cooperative apartments, the homes are available in a variety of styled interiors, some with one bedroom, others with two. All two-bedroom units have two bathrooms.

MOST OF THE apartments have spacious patios and balconies, some overlooking a park. All units are carpeted wall to wall in 100 per cent wool fabric, and all windows, including sliding patio doors, are draped in fine matching or contrasting material.

Owners say that because of original plans to sell the units on an own-your-own-apartment plan, expensive extras were incorporated into the building plans. One of these is excellent soundproofing, including concrete between floors.

Frigidaire ranges and dishwashers are featured in kitchens. Kitchen cabinets are hand-rubbed and stained natural ash raised panel hardwood.

DECORATOR-colored plumbing fixtures, oversized closets and wardrobes with additional storage areas are included in the apartments' design.

A hi-fi unit, individually controlled, is in each unit.

Park, library and tennis court facilities are available nearby. Within the apartment complex are gymnasiums for women and men, laundry rooms, hair dryers, and a swimming pool.

A model apartment, with furniture by Arnold White, is available for showing by a resident manager. For those who prefer to call for an appointment, the number is FR 8-6090.

'Stamp Out Darkness'

"Help Stamp Our Darkness" is the slogan of a civic group in Torrance circulating petitions for a street lighting district.

The area involved is bounded approximately by Crenshaw, 182 Street, Arlington and the Edison towers.

J. G. Whitmer, Torrance traffic and lighting engineer, informed the committee that generally metal light standards are installed, and that the cost is approximately $38 per lot. He warned that petitions must be filed by April 1, to be acted upon this year.

Bob Errickson, chairman of the committee, said action had been taken because of the reports quoted by Supervisor Kenneth Hahn that adequate street lighting deters crime and lessens traffic hazards.
